The National Museum of Korea is the largest national museum in Korea. It is where 3.5 million visitors annually come to feel and experience Korea’s history and culture. The museum has 420,000 pieces of artifacts and operates very active cultural exchange programs with foreign countries to introduce various cultural artifacts. At the same time, the museum established 13 regional museums in areas with meaningful history, to preserve Korea’s cultural heritage.

The permanent exhibition includes artifacts such as a simple Old Stone Age hand axe, a luxurious golden crown from Silla, paintings from Joseon, various artifacts from Egypt, Central Asia and other regions of the world. In addition, with the VR Experience Hall and the Immersive Digital Gallery which utilize state-of-the-art IT technology, the museum is transforming itself from a simple artifact display venue to a venue for visitors. This is clearly summed up in the museum’s slogan “Museum for You”.

The museum is at the heart of Seoul, thus is easily accessible via various transportation modes, and it also has ample parking spaces. With various facilities such as 416-seat Main Auditorium and other indoor & outdoor facilities, the venue can be used for events of varying sizes. The museum restaurant has a presentation system, so after meetings visitors can have a meal while enjoying great views of the Glass Pond and the surrounding natural environment. During the evening, visitors at the restaurant can enjoy a spectacular view of N Seoul Tower. The National Museum of Korea has successfully hosted various events such as the Congress of the World Conference On Constitutional Justice and the World Women Economic Forum. The museum is a popular venue that represents Korea’s history and culture, making it an ideal place for international events.

Nodeul Island is located in the middle of Hangangdaegyo Bridge, which connects Dongjak-gu and Yongsan-gu in Seoul. In September 2019, Nodeul Island was born again as a “music-based cultural complex” as a result of years of discussions between experts and Seoul citizens over how to maintain the original shape of the island. Various performances and events are held every month at its major cultural venues such as Nodeul Live House, Nodeul Bookstore, Music Lounge RYU, Forest Multi-Hall.

Visitors can also enjoy diverse experiences in other lifestyle venues like & TABLE, Plant Atelier, Space 445, RE;CODE, and Café Vo “Vacance on Island.” The buildings are in harmony with the natural environment, with which most of its original eco-system remains intact. Nodeul Island is a perfect place with a great location in Seoul for various cultural activities, such as international meetings, concerts and festivals.

Oil Tank Culture Park was originally the Mapo Oil Depot, a government-controlled restricted area for the last 41 years. The Seoul Metropolitan Government turned the area into a cultural space through an urban renewal project. The old oil tanks, which once stored large enough amounts of petroleum products to be consumed by Seoul residents for one full month, were turned into cultural tanks creating a new culture each day.

Five oil storage tanks were transformed into open cultural spaces, and T6 (Tank 6), which was built with a deconstructed oil tank, became a community space for citizens. The facilities include a cafeteria, round-shaped conference rooms, and the Eco Lounge. Since the park has a rather free usage guidelines, all spaces of the venue can be used for various activities such as lectures, performances, exhibitions and events. Large scale events, workshops, and festivals also can be held at Culture Yard, which has 33,000m² space.

The Korean Stone Art Museum is a specialty stone museum where Korean stone relics, which were scattered around the world, were finally gathered together in one place. With both indoor and outdoor exhibition halls, the museum exhibits approximately 1,300 stone relics, which portray how time transcends life values and ancestral wisdom. Since various trees and wildflowers grow right next to big and small stone relics in the museum’s outdoor Stone Garden, visitors can enjoy the beautiful scenery which changes according to the season. Besides stone relics, there are other articles of interest such as 300 pieces of traditional embroidery artworks, presenting the cultural essence of traditional women; and 150 pieces of modern and contemporary paintings.

All spaces in the museum can be used as venues for various events. In particular the 4th floor roof top, boasting a spectacular view overlooking Seoul city centers, has a large space that can accommodate up to 200 people. During the evening, visitors can hold special banquets and seminars on the roof top, while enjoying the beautiful Seoul night view.

The Korea Furniture Museum is a place where traditional Korean wood furniture made in the late Joseon Dynasty era are exhibited in groups according to material, category and regional characteristics. This special museum is built with 10 old hanoks (traditional Korean house), selected from various locations in Korea over a 15-year period. The hanoks were relocated and rebuilt by hand piece by piece to create this venue. The museum is a space which responds to the question, "Where and how did Koreans live in the past?" It’s also a place where traditional Korean life culture is on display. The museum was selected as “The most beautiful museum in Korea” by CNN in 2011, and many foreign dignitaries have visited to enjoy the beauty of traditional Korean houses and furniture. List of foreign dignitaries who have visited include President and First Lady of the People’s Republic of China, President of Germany, Prime Minister of Singapore, King and Queen of Belgium, and the King of Sweden.

The Korea Furniture Museum is the perfect place for events that want to display distinctive Korean characteristics and elegance. The museum has rental spaces available for banquets for groups of twenty; and a hanok that can accommodate seventy people. Visitors of the rental venue can have a museum tour prior to dinner, or partake in a reception or performance in the outdoor space.

KOREA HOUSE is a traditional culture complex built and operated with the objective of introducing traditional Korean life and culture to the world. Visitors can enjoy the beauty of Korea, such as traditional houses, royal cuisine, royal tea and sweets, traditional performances, and traditional weddings all in one place. KOREA HOUSE was originally the house of Pak Paengnyeon, a research fellow of Jiphyeonjeon (a royal research institute of Joseon) and one of six martyred ministers of Joseon. After the establishment of the Republic of Korea, KOREA HOUSE was used as a state guest house for domestic and foreign dignitaries.

KOREA HOUSE is a group of buildings with a long history and highly aesthetic original Korean architectural beauty combining architectural characteristics of hanoks (traditional Korean house) and a royal residence. Currently, the Korea Cultural Heritage Foundation, whose objective is to preserve traditional Korean culture, is responsible for the operation of KOREA HOUSE.

Five main buildings make up KOREA HOUSE – Haeringwan, where the Folk Theater is located; Chwiseongwan Building; Munhyangru Detached Villa; Nogeumjeong Pavilion; and Cheongwujeong. Haeringwan is the central building and it sits next to Sohwadang Hall, which is similar to a guest house. Sohwadang Hall houses the Hwanbyeokru Hall pavilion. In the backyard, there are three buildings named Munhyangru Detached Villa, Nogeumjeong Pavilion, and Cheongwujeong. Aside from these traditional buildings, there is a new building with modern facilities named Chwiseongwan, where various events can be held on different floors of the building.

The unique strength of KOREA HOUSE is that it is a venue where Korean royal cuisine, refreshments, traditional cultural performances and traditional culture can all be experienced together. In addition, one ground level parking lot and two underground parking lots provide visitors with ample parking.

Known to be built in the year 381, Jeondeungsa Temple is the oldest Buddhist temple in Korea. Beautifully situated in the middle of a mountain on Ganghwado Island, and in harmony with the surrounding environment, the area is famous for its beautiful fall foliage and winter snow. Thanks to the Temple Stay program, participants can experience the everyday temple life of a Buddhist monk. The program draws many foreigners to the temple.

Many parts of the temple can be used as event venues. Events with floor seating arrangements can be held in Seonbuljang and Wolsongyo. Seminars that require tables and chairs can be arranged in Jeondeunggak. Some parts of the temple are equipped with sound systems and beam projectors, so meetings and performances can be held. Events that can be held at Jeondeungsa Temple can include enjoying some fragrant teas and sweets, or walking around the temple to enjoy the beautiful scenery.

TRIBOWL is a cultural and art space managed by the Incheon Cultural Foundation. The venue has an amphitheater concert hall (823.03m²) together with a multi-purpose space (111.13m²) that can be used for cultural art education, exhibitions and other activities. TRIBOWL’s unique architectural beauty is well known. It has a flat ceiling and a free style rounded floor that floats on top of a glassy rectangular surface of water. Visitors enter the space by walking through a long bridge built under the structure.

The extraordinarily shaped TRIBOWL is divided into the second and third floors. The second floor is where the concert hall, lobby and education room are located. The third floor is a community hall, which is a resting space for visitors.

The performance hall, which can be rented for various performances, proudly displays its distinctively nature-friendly space that is surrounded by birch wood panels. Since the performance hall is built as an amphitheater with no distinct separation between the performance and spectators areas, spectators can feel the performer's breath. The spectator area can accommodate 300 people and has tiered seating, which gives the performance director more options on how to present the performance.

Gwangmyeong Cave is an abandoned mine transformed into a cave theme park. The cave was an active mine producing gold, silver, copper and zinc until the mining closed down in 1972. Gwangmyeong City purchased the area in 2011, developed various cultural contents around it, and turned the cave into one of the most popular tourist attractions in Gyeonggi-do where more than one million people visit annually. Its distinctive and unique location as a cave made it into a world famous space for new culture creations with its cultural arts content. Visitors can enjoy interesting spaces such as the Cave Café, Aqua World, Haunted House, and the Wine Storage Cave. The Gwangmyeong Cave Arts Center is the only performance center located inside a cave in Korea. Together with 350 seats, sound and lighting equipment, the venue can be used for various performances, fashion shows and corporate events.

The Light Plaza, an open place outside of the cave has a maximum capacity of 1,500 people, suitable for large scale events. In the Light Plaza, the tallest media tower in Korea is installed, which provides visitors with world class 3D images and interactive media experiences. The Light Plaza can be used as a unique and creative event venue.

Gangneung Ojuk Hanok Village is a hanok (traditional Korean house) style accommodations facility operated by the Gangneung Tourism Development Corporation. This is where visitors can experience the traditions of Gangneung, the city of literature and culture. Since the village is constructed under the concept of harmonious coexistence with the surrounding environment, a place where people can quietly appreciate nature, visitors can feel the comfort that the hanok provides. The chogas (house with a thatched roof) aligned together resemble the shape of a mountain ridge. The line of the roof tiles resemble a loosely stretched straw rope that is being held in both ends. The eaves are constructed with hurim and joro, traditional architectural techniques, thus giving the middle of the ridge a natural sag. Due to these architectural characteristics, buildings found in the village became comfortable spaces where the flexibility of traditional architectural beauty can readily be felt by visitors.

The village has 51 guest rooms that can accommodate a total of 240 visitors. The village offers various types of rooms, such as duplexes with elevated floors, detached buildings, and full houses. The Samuljae, a conference hall, and the spacious outdoor space can be used to accommodate outdoor performances for VIPs, as well as luncheons & dinners. The Aeiljae is a guest room that is disability-friendly with ramps at the entrance and a spacious bathroom.

Currently, the village runs various hands-on experience programs for both domestic and foreign visitors, based on know-how acquired through running programs for foreigners in connection with the legacy of the PyeongChang 2018 Olympic Winter Games. An outdoor performance hall and an exclusive complex for traditional experience programs will be developed to provide visitors with more diverse and better programs to experience Korean traditions.

Nami Island is a beautiful island located in Chuncheon, Gangwon-do, and it is striving to realize dreams of nature and human beings coexisting. It had once been a desolate island filled with sand. Through environmentally friendly development and beautification efforts, this once desolate and sandy Nami Island transformed into a unique and beloved tourist spot filled with lush green woods, flowers, and artwork made of recycled materials. Many different tree species on the island, such as metasequoias, ginkgos, cherry blossoms, and pine come together to boast beautiful views throughout the changing seasons. Because of this, Nami Island is popular as a filming location for TV dramas, movies, and commercials.

Since it has indoor spaces with a state-of-the-art sound system and an outdoor stage with the capacity to handle a large number of spectators, Nami Island is a great place for various events. Once every two years Nami Island hosts the “Nami Island International Children’s Book Festival”, an event where fairy tale writers and fairy tale books from all around the world come together. Various events sponsored or hosted by foreign embassies in Korea, as well as international organizations are also held on Nami Island each year.

The DMZ Museum is the only museum in the world focused on the DMZ and is located in the northern most Civilian Control Line (CCL) in South Korea, where the division of the two Koreas is most vividly visible. The museum was built with the hope of bringing peace to the North and South Koreans, under the museum, various artifacts realistically depict time periods before, during and after the Korean War. The items also tell of the historic significance and value of the Military Demarcation Line and the Demilitarized Zone, which came to existence as a result of the Armistice Agreement. Outside of the museum, visitors can see the barbed wire lined across the DMZ, the psychological warfare equipment used against North Korean soldiers, remnants of the Berlin Wall, and peace-themed sculptures. One can also enjoy the walking/jogging animal area.

The Multipurpose Center, an auxiliary facility of the museum, has three small meeting rooms and one main auditorium, which can be used as venues for various seminars, academic conferences and corporate meetings. Sunshine Studio is the first public-private joint drama theme park in Korea. The Nonsan City government provided the site and infrastructure and SBS A&T is responsible for running the venue. With modern western style houses, traditional Korean houses, and Japanese houses mixed together in an area of 17,830 m², the venue is the only place in Korea where Hanseong (old Seoul) of the early 1900’s has been symbolically reincarnated. The history of Sunshine Studio goes back to the filming of the TV drama “Mr. Sunshine” in October, 2018. Thanks to the location’s unique scenery, it has become one of the most popular tourist attractions in Chungcheongnam-do, boasting more than 410K visitors to date. The venue is still being used as a filming site for many movies and dramas. It is a great place for foreigners to visit to experience the early modern times of Korea, the location’s great service and neat environment, and to see the Korean Wave in action.

The Asia Culture Center (ACC) is an international arts and cultural exchange organization, mainly focused on the promotion of Asian culture and art. At ACC, visitors can meet various performances, exhibitions, and hands-on experience programs where the cultures and arts of Asia, as well as the world over, are held daily.

The ACC has five major venues, each with its own distinctive objective, namely they are the ACC Culture Exchange, ACC Children, ACC Archive & Research, ACC Creation, and ACC Theater. ACC is a large structure with a total floor space of 166,817m² covering 6 floors and 4 additional underground floors. Most of the major facilities are installed on the underground floors and the top of the building is used as a huge roof top garden. With this design, ACC has become a place where citizens visit without noticing much of a difference between the surrounding city area and the ACC building itself.

At the conference hall, which is located on the 2nd underground level of ACC Archive & Research, seminars or lectures can be held for up to 500 people. Since there is a reception hall right next to the conference hall, a meeting and a banquet can be held separately if necessary. There is also a multi-purpose hall that can be divided into 3 separate spaces, along with many classrooms of various sizes.

Nurimaru APEC House is located on Dongbaekseom Island, right next to Haeundae, and was built for the 13th APEC Summit held in 2005. The name “Nurimaru APEC House” is the combination of two Korean words, “nuri” meaning “world” and “maru” meaning “summit”, hence the name represents “the house where world leaders gathered to hold APEC (Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation).”

Nurimaru APEC House is a three-story building, representing a modern style “jeongja” (traditional Korean pavilion), while its oval roof symbolizes the ridgeline of Dongbaekseom Island. The oval roof catches the eyes of onlookers even from a distance. The blue sea of Haeundae is clearly visible on the southern side of the building, while camellias and pine trees surround the northern part. Nurimaru APEC House is considered by many as an ideally situated venue for international meetings due to its great combination of traditional touch and modern taste in perfect harmony with beautiful nature.

After the successful hosting of APEC, various international conventions have been held in Nurimaru APEC House, including the 1st Mekong-Republic of Korea Summit in 2019. The second floor conference room, with its large space and variety of the equipment and facilities, is suitable for international conferences, academic conferences and banquets. The outdoor garden is great for outdoor exhibitions, performances and large-scale banquets.

The word “bonte” means “original form”, and as the museum name signifies, bonte museum was established to pursue the original beauty of humankind. The museum is located in Jeju, a place that still maintains its original beauty. Special exhibitions of various subjects including nature & architecture, tradition & present, and the world & Korea are on display here.

Bonte museum is located in a famous building designed by a world-renowned architect Tadao Ando, winner of the 1995 Pritzker Architecture Prize also known as the Nobel Prize of architecture. The museum is considered one of his masterpieces. Architectural elements incorporate light and water, which blend naturally with the exposed concrete structure reminiscent of marble.

An elegant open-air garden located outside of Gallery 2 is a perfect place for banquets and seminars, where guests can enjoy the sunlight and winds of Jeju. The Music Hall, located inside the museum, can be utilized as a venue for smaller seminars.

2021 SOMEDA EVENT VENUE

Bonte Culture Hall

Jungmun Resort
Created in a space covering approximately 43,000 m², Spirited Garden has seven small gardens along with other facilities; and it is the place where creation, art and philosophy are fused into one. Therefore, it is rightly named as the “World’s Most Beautiful Garden” by some. Indigenous Korean trees and bonsai, strangely shaped stones and suiseki are exhibited along the grass yard and soft slopes of the garden. Spirited Garden is home to huge handmade basalt stone walls, stone gates, waterfalls, and a pond existing together in harmony with natural stone buildings.

Secret Garden, which has hosted numerous corporate functions and international events, can be used as a venue for world-class garden parties where guests can enjoy the most Jeju-like atmosphere. The garden has grass squares where up to 300 people can enjoy an outdoor dinner, and/or an indoor banquet hall with a Jap theme. In addition, there are two waterfalls, a pond and an open-air performance stage as well as two kitchens and a World Toilet Association certified outdoor restroom.

Surrounded by stone walls, the Secret Garden is a convenient and perfect venue for private events as it’s easy to setup a security station. The Secret Garden has a lighting system that covers the entire area, and high pitched tents or Mongolian tents can be provided when it rains. Various foods and beverages, including vegan or halal dishes can be served. The Secret Garden was built with the intention of being a venue for summit meetings, and it has become one of the best venues in the world for high-level government official meetings. There is an octagonal pavilion in the Secret Garden. Half of the pavilion structure is built with stone and the support columns are submerged in the pond, enhancing the elegant atmosphere of the venue.

Jeju Folk Village was established to preserve the historical heritage of Jeju in its natural and original form. The museum was created through a lengthy process of study, research and historical investigation to recreate the culture, history, and life of Jeju during the 1890’s (late Joseon Dynasty). The village is made up of 100 traditional Korean houses, which were used as actual living quarters. In addition, different villages such as the Mountain Village, Hill-country Village, and Fishing Village were formed.

The village has other sites such as the Performance Venue where guests can experience traditional Korean games; the Traditional Marketplace where guests can taste local Jeju foods; and the Filming Site. The village also stages traditional performances for guests 3 times per day. The 157,100 m² village is full of beautiful trees and flowers of Jeju, exhibiting distinctively different sceneries according to seasonal changes.

Known as the location with the most beautiful Jeju-like scenery, the village had hosted various international events in the past. Visitors can hold VIP invitation events, such as international conferences, and corporate functions in the large open courtyard in front of Jeju Yeongmun, a former government office building located at the center of the Jeju Folk Village.
